FIGHT CAMP RECIPE PACK

I'm Dylan — Las Vegas firefighter-paramedic and Muay Thai fighter. These are the simple, whole-food meals I actually eat through fight camp and long shifts. High protein, real ingredients, nothing fancy. Cook them, tweak them, make weight on food you look forward to.

1. 5-Minute Camp Breakfast
2. Blueberry Chocolate Protein Creami
3. Chocolate Pumpkin Protein Bread
4. Eggs and Chocolate Blueberry Cream of Rice
5. Honey Collagen Protein Marshmallows
6. Turkey Rice Power Bowl

Macros are estimates and vary by brand. This is food, not medical advice.

5-MINUTE CAMP BREAKFAST

~590 CAL · 34 G PROTEIN · 10 MIN · BREAKFAST

Yield: Serves 1

> Note: "5-minute" assumes the microwave route for the sweet potato. Baking it takes 45–50 minutes but tastes better.

INGREDIENTS

- 3 whole eggs
- 1/2 cup liquid egg whites
- Hot sauce, to taste
- 1 medium sweet potato
- 1 Tbsp apple butter
- 1 cup frozen blueberries
- 1 tsp honey
- Ceylon cinnamon, to taste
- Optional: 1/2 cup whole kefir on the side

METHOD

1. Poke the sweet potato and microwave 5–7 minutes, flipping halfway (or bake at 400°F for 45–50 minutes for better flavor).
2. Fry the eggs and whites in a nonstick pan, then add hot sauce.
3. Slice the sweet potato and top with apple butter.
4. Top the frozen blueberries with honey and cinnamon.
5. Optional: 1/2 cup kefir on the side for gut health.

MACROS (APPROX., VARIES BY BRAND)

- About 590 calories and 34 g protein without kefir
- About 670 calories and 39 g protein with kefir

~325 CAL · 40 G PROTEIN · 10 MIN · SNACK

Yield: 3 Ninja Creami XL tubs · ~40 g protein each

Hands-on time is about 10 minutes. The tubs need 24 hours in the freezer before you spin.

> Size note: This recipe is written for Creami XL tubs. One XL batch is about 4–5 standard pints' worth, so on a standard Creami, split it evenly across 4–5 pints instead (each pint comes out to roughly 195–245 cal / 24–30 g protein before mix-ins, approx.).

INGREDIENTS (MAKES 3 XL TUBS)

- 4 cups water
- 4 scoops chocolate casein
- 1 cup nonfat plain Greek yogurt
- 2 cups frozen blueberries
- 1/2 tsp xanthan gum
- 3 Tbsp honey (1 Tbsp per tub)
- Pinch of salt

Mix-in (per tub): about 1/4 cup One Degree Sprouted Brown Rice Cacao Crisps

METHOD

1. Blend everything, honey included, until smooth. Sprinkle the xanthan gum in while the blender runs so it doesn't clump.
2. Split evenly into 3 XL tubs, staying under the max fill line.
3. Freeze level for 24 hours.
4. Spin on Lite Ice Cream. If it's crumbly, Re-spin.
5. After the spin, make a well in the center, add the crisps, and run Mix-In.

MACROS (APPROX., VARIES BY BRAND)

- Whole batch: about 970 calories and 120 g protein (honey is about 64 cal per Tbsp)
- Per XL tub: about 325 calories and 40 g protein before the crisps mix-in
- The crisps add roughly 50–60 calories per tub. Check the box label.

CHOCOLATE PUMPKIN PROTEIN BREAD

~205 CAL · 17 G PROTEIN · 55 MIN · SNACK

Yield: 8 slices · 9×5 loaf pan · 350°F · 40–45 min bake

About 10 minutes to mix and 40–45 minutes in the oven. Let it cool fully, then chill the frosting for 30+ minutes to set.

INGREDIENTS (MAKES 8 SLICES)

Bread

- 1 can (15 oz) pumpkin puree
- 1 ripe banana, mashed
- 3 eggs + 1/2 cup liquid egg whites
- 1/2 cup nonfat Greek yogurt
- 3 Tbsp honey
- 1 tsp vanilla extract
- 1 cup oat flour
- 2 scoops chocolate casein
- 2 Tbsp unsweetened cocoa (optional)
- 1 tsp baking powder
- 1/2 tsp baking soda
- 2 tsp pumpkin pie spice
- Pinch of salt

Frosting

- 3/4 cup nonfat Greek yogurt
- 1/4 scoop chocolate casein
- 1 tsp honey
- Cinnamon, to taste

METHOD

1. Heat the oven to 350°F. Grease a 9×5 loaf pan.
2. Whisk the pumpkin, banana, eggs, egg whites, yogurt, honey and vanilla.
3. Fold in the oat flour, casein, cocoa, baking powder, baking soda, spice and salt. Don't overmix.
4. Bake 40–45 minutes. Pull it when a toothpick shows a few moist crumbs (a little early = fudgier).
5. Cool fully. Stir the frosting together, spread it on, and chill 30+ minutes to set. Cut 8 slices.

MACROS (APPROX., VARIES BY BRAND)

- Per slice (with frosting): about 205 calories, 17 g protein, 27 g carbs, 4 g fat
- Whole loaf: about 1,620 calories and 136 g protein
- Assumes chocolate casein at about 120 cal / 24 g protein per scoop, and includes the cocoa

EGGS AND CHOCOLATE BLUEBERRY CREAM OF RICE

~510 CAL · 42 G PROTEIN · 10 MIN · BREAKFAST

Yield: Serves 1

INGREDIENTS

- 3 whole eggs
- 3/4 cup liquid egg whites
- Hot sauce, to taste
- Black pepper, to taste
- 1 scoop RAW Nutrition Cream of Rice, chocolate (Double Fudge Brownie), dry
- 1 cup frozen blueberries
- Optional: black coffee on the side

METHOD

1. Fry the eggs and whites in a nonstick pan, then add hot sauce and black pepper.
2. Cook the cream of rice with water per the package directions (microwave works).
3. Stir in the frozen blueberries. They melt in and turn the bowl purple.
4. Serve with black coffee on the side if you want it.

Eggs, egg whites and blueberries use standard USDA values. The cream of rice uses RAW Nutrition's label for Cream of Rice, Double Fudge Brownie (their chocolate flavor): 120 calories, 3 g protein, 26 g carbs and 0.5 g fat per 35.5 g scoop. Black coffee adds close to nothing.

~35 CAL · 3.4 G PROTEIN · 25 MIN · SNACK

Yield: 16 squares · 8×8 pan · set 2–4 hrs

About 25 minutes of hands-on time, then 2–4 hours to set.

INGREDIENTS (MAKES 16 SQUARES)

- 3 Tbsp unflavored gelatin (3 packets), bloomed in 1/2 cup cold water
- 2 scoops unflavored collagen peptides
- 1/3 cup honey + 1/4 cup water
- 1 tsp vanilla extract
- Pinch of salt

METHOD

1. Sprinkle the gelatin over 1/2 cup cold water. Let it sit 5 minutes.
2. Warm the honey and 1/4 cup water to about 160–180°F, not boiling. Take it off the heat.
3. Pour it over the gelatin and stir to dissolve. Add the collagen, vanilla and salt.
4. Beat with a hand mixer on high for 8–10 minutes, until thick, white and fluffy.
5. Spread into a parchment-lined 8×8 pan. Set 2–4 hours. Cut with an oiled knife.

Note: Collagen adds protein but doesn't gel. The gelatin does the setting.

MACROS (APPROX., VARIES BY BRAND)

- Per square: about 35 calories, 3.4 g protein, 5.8 g carbs, 0 g fat
- Whole batch: about 550 calories, 54 g protein, 92 g carbs
- Assumes gelatin at about 23 cal / 6 g protein per 7 g packet, collagen at about 70 cal / 18 g protein per 20 g scoop, and honey at about 64 cal / 17 g carbs per Tbsp

TURKEY RICE POWER BOWL

~710 CAL · 48 G PROTEIN · 20 MIN · DINNER

Yield: Serves 1

INGREDIENTS

- 3/4 cup cooked white rice
- About 1/2 lb 93/7 ground turkey
- Salt, pepper and your favorite seasoning
- About 1/2 cup sliced carrots (orange and purple)
- About 1/3 cup sauerkraut
- About 1/2 avocado, sliced
- About 2 Tbsp chopped pepperoncini
- About 1 Tbsp honey mustard

METHOD

1. Cook the rice, or reheat leftover rice.
2. Brown the turkey in a pan over medium-high heat, breaking it up, and season with salt, pepper and your seasoning.
3. Slice the carrots thin.
4. Build the bowl: rice, turkey, carrots, sauerkraut, avocado and pepperoncini.
5. Drizzle the honey mustard over the top.
